

NEW FEATURE

Meet our Myco with NEW Multiline feature

One User. One Smartphone. Five Telephony Accounts.

Do you have multiple job responsibilities? Do you need to be more mobile? Then the Ascom Myco with Multiline could be the right feature for you.

Imagine having the freedom to have multiple conversations at once - or being able to increase your staff's efficiency and improve customer service while conveniently on the go.

Our new multiline feature offers you five programmable line extensions with transfer, on hold and conference functionality allowing you to manage multiple responsibilities across your business from anywhere within your facility or organization.

Manufacturing Ready to move out from behind the desk and start doing more with less? The possibilities are numerous with our multiline capabilities now available on our enterprise-grade smartphones.

To request a multiline demo today or to find out more about other solutions for maximizing operational efficiency, please visit our website ascom.com

Multiline capability can help a workforce that needs to be more mobile in:
